War Memorial Tower on Fox Hill

VERNON, CONNECTICUT APPRECIATES YOU!

In the late 1930s, during the Great Depression, this octagonal stone monument was erected on Fox Hill in the Rockville section of our town. Standing 72 feet tall, it's a towering testament to the fact that we honor and support our veterans.

Hands Touching Hearts is a global outreach effort that gives Americans of all ages the opportunity to decorate handcrafted thank-you gifts for United States military personnel. The program was originated by Ann M. Cosgrove, a graphic artist in Connecticut. To learn more, visit www.Annns.work.
